They're making a "hit" with the returning fighters

THE men that are coming home say a lot for the new waist-seam models. They like the way they fit, the snugness at the waist, the convenient pockets, vertical and slash. They like the distinctive air these models give.

We're showing you here one of the best—paneled back, with four rows of stitching around the waist. The pockets, too, are individual—note how they're brought up to the waist-seam. This is only one of the many good ones by—

GERMAN MONEY COMMISSION OFF

FINANCIAL PROBLEM ONE OF HARDEST FACING PEACE CONFERENCE.

By the Associated Press
PARIS, March 31.—The German financial sub-commission which is to discuss the financial questions with the allied representatives has arrived at Spa.
Late advice from the meeting would likely be held at Versailles. The Berlin dispatches Saturday said the German commission would stop at Spa en route to the place of meeting. They will await further developments. The financial problem is one of the hardest of all the difficult problems at the Paris peace conference, all reports state. The allied delegates want to assess as much damage against Germany as she can pay, but are anxious not to go too far.

ULTIMATUM SENT BY HUNGARIANS

BOHEMIA REPORTED TO BE MOBILIZING WAR CLOUDS AGAIN THREATEN.

By the Associated Press
BASEL, Switzerland, March 31.—The Hungarian government is reported to have sent an ultimatum to the Czech-Slovak government, according to Vienna advices. This action was taken because of the concentration of Czech-Slovak troops and the rumor that there would be a general mobilization in Bohemia in the near future. In view of the fact that the radical elements in Hungary are reported to be in power, it is feared that war may break out between Hungary and the new country of Bohemia.

GERMANS INSIST ON 14 POINTS

WILSON AND LLOYD GEORGE CONFERENCE IN ORDER TO HASTEN PROCEEDINGS.

By the Associated Press
LONDON, March 31.—The department of the German foreign office, having in charge the peace negotiations, has reached the decision that the German government should act only in accordance with President Wilson's fourteen points, according to a German wireless message received here. Whether this indicates that the German government will refuse to sign the peace pact, in case the fourteen points are changed in any particulars, is a question in the minds of the English officials.

Lloyd George and Wilson Confer.
Paris, March 31.—Premier Lloyd George and President Woodrow Wilson conferred privately today for an hour before the Council of Four met at the president's Paris residence. It is understood the conference was for the purpose of expediting the peace proceedings.

13 MEN ENTOMBED IN WRECKED MINE

By the Associated Press
TRINIDAD, Colo., March 31.—Thirteen men are reported entombed in the Empire mine of Empire Coal company, near Aguirre, Colo., which was wrecked by an explosion this morning. Twenty-three of the thirty-six miners in the mine at time of the explosion were taken out.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES

LIBERTY.
Miss Margaret Lillie, who has proved popular heretofore, returns to Ada this week and will appear at the Liberty with her show girls. In addition to the vaudeville patrons of this house will be favored with Tony America, a picture program that is interesting and touching.

AMERICAN.
The visitors to this show tonight will witness three good pictures. "The Lightning Raiders," is a good one. In addition will be seen Harold Lloyd in "I'm On My Way" and a big V. comedy "Bums and Boarders." This makes up a tasty program.

Quitman Prewett is back home from overseas service, having received his discharge from the army. Quitman is a perfect specimen of young American manhood and looks the picture of health and pep.

PROPOSAL COMES RUSSIAN LEADERS

WANTS ALLIED ARMIES WITHDRAWN; WILLING TO MAKE CONCESSIONS.

By the Associated Press
LONDON, March 31.—George Lansbury, editor of the new labor party paper, the Daily Herald, declares the allies have received a proposal for an understanding with the present rulers of central Russia, the bolsheviks. He intimates that the conditions of the understanding are the withdrawal of the allied troops now in Russia, the abandonment of the trade policy of interference with Russian affairs. Russia on her part would be willing not to interfere with the affairs of other nations and would be willing to withdraw from Finland, Estonia, Ukraine and other republics which have chosen their own governments. It is also intimated that the Russian leaders will agree to a full and complete payment of the international debt. Lansbury did not state where he obtained this information.

WELFARE LEAGUE CAMPAIGN STARTS

DR. THEODORE HANSON, FOUNDER OF LEAGUE, ADDRESSES MASS MEETING.

Dr. Theodore Hanson of Kansas City, manager and general superintendent of the National Public Welfare League, presented his opening address last evening at the First Methodist church.

The National League is promoting the welfare department in the units of government, city, county and state.

"Emphasis is laid on the fact that organized society, the body politic, must assume the responsibility of dealing with the causes of our social ills rather than simply handling the product."

Dr. Hanson advocates the policy that "Efficiency in government is not building institutions to house the social wreckage but rather to eliminate the cause which occasions the downfall of our boys and girls, and in the place of playing the roll of 'big police' we must supply the 'big brother' spirit."

The speaker deals very definitely with the public amusements as an outstanding destructive or constructive element in character building.

"The community play-life either supplements and bulwarks the school and church and home or it runs counter and largely undermines the efficiency of all these institutions."

However, Dr. Hanson does not advocate the elimination of public amusements, but insists that the community is responsible under the new social order, where it is the community rather than the home that supplies the social play-life of the home, to see that the whole is made helpful and constructive.

The speaker further insists that "The body community must be held responsible to see that the proper physical and sanitary conditions are furnished in the home life of all the boys and girls."

Stating also that "we are very particular with respect to our obligations, whom we place in our penitentiaries, to see that all modern and sanitary appliances are furnished, to see that the institution is kept clean and wholesome." Then who should not society be as much interested in the multitude of boys and girls outside of our penal institutions living in unsanitary and unwholesome conditions?

He insists that "it is cheaper from the standpoint of economy, only, to build out of the boys and girls a constructive citizenship than to handle them or to care for them after they have gone wrong. He opened his eyes when he said that, 'Crime alone in the United States costs more than the education of all our children.' Thus showing us how 'Religion has unfortunately been too closely connected with death and not enough with life.'"

Those who were present on the occasion of the meeting last evening were impressed with the sincerity of Dr. Hanson's message and it certainly behooves every citizen of Ada to improve this opportunity to acquaint himself with this great modern movement.

The mothers, especially, are urged to be present at the service to be held at the church Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the subject under discussion will be, 'Prevention, Not Cure.' The What, Why and How will be the subject under discussion at the evening service on tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock.

The committee appointed last night consists of J. M. Gordon, W. W. Sledge, R. E. Blanks, Mrs. C. L. Orr, Mrs. Byron Norrell, Mrs. J. H. Bowd, Gary Kitchens, Rev. S. B. Dameron, Mrs. H. A. STRIKE HAS NOT BEEN SETTLED

STARVATION FACES PARTS OF POPULATION IN AUSTRIA, REPORTS SAY.

By the Associated Press
PARIS, March 31.—The reports that the railroad strike in Germany and Austria had been settled were untrue, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Echo de Paris this morning, forwarded by way of Genoa.
The negotiations which have been going on between the strikers, Chancellor Renner and Secretary for military affairs Deutsch have failed. If the strike continues on the eastern and southern parts of the affected districts, according to reports, the situation will become grave indeed in a few days. As it is now, the supplies in the towns and cities are running short and actual starvation faces a part of the populations.

MEXICAN REPORT STIRS OFFICIALS

AMERICAN EMBASSY TO INVESTIGATE ALLEGED JAPANESE ACTIVITY.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 31.—The American embassy at Mexico City was today instructed to make inquiries concerning the report that Mexican government had granted agricultural concessions to Japanese in Lower California and report the facts immediately. As no official information had reached the state department, yesterday's dispatches regarding concession to Japanese created a surprise in official circles. The American government is interested because of apparent Japanese success in obtaining a long sought foothold in Lower California and because the land involved was developed and is claimed by an American company whose rights were declared forfeited by the Mexican government on April 7, 1917.

Reports from Mexico City.
MEXICO CITY, March 31.—That Japanese corporations have been granted concessions to exploit agricultural lands in Lower California was the statement made Saturday by General Amado Aguirre, Undersecretary of Development and Agriculture.
The affirmation was made, however, that the concessions were fully authorized by the provisions of the Mexican Constitution regarding the area and position of the territory in relation to the ocean shore and the frontier line.

There was nothing in the concessions, it was asserted by the undersecretary, that might possibly lead to difficulty as far as the Monroe Doctrine was concerned.
Reports that there is a possibility of international controversy over the granting of the concessions to the Japanese were said to be absurd by General Amado Aguirre in an interview earlier in the day, in which he would not admit the concessions had been granted. The Japanese legation, here denied it had any official knowledge of the action.

City Hall Affairs.
This morning the lord mayor assessed a fine of $8.75 each against two youthful chaps for drunkenness.

Since Gary Kitchens was appointed to fill the unexpired term as mayor he has made a record for the collection of fines. Mr. Kitchens has placed his office and the police force on a solid financial basis, this department of the municipal government being almost self sustaining. Here is his record of collections for the four months he has been mayor:

December.....$799.25
January.....596.25
February.....608.00
March.....500.00

WELLS DRILLING IN ADA TERRITORY

The Daokla Oil Company is drilling at 900 feet in section 16-3-6. The log of the well is following pretty closely the log of the first well drilled in this locality. John Fitz, who is in charge of this development, is feeling optimistic over the outlook.
The Oil State Oil Company is drilling around 200 feet in the new well in section 34-5-7. This well is in established oil and gas territory.
The Magnolia is drilling around 350 feet in the new well in 33-5-7 near Francis. The company has encountered bad luck in this location, this being the third time to start a hole.

SEMINOLE BANKER KILLED AT HOME

SHAWNEE, Okla., March 31.—John Briscoe, prominent business man and banker of Seminole was shot and instantly killed at his home Saturday night, and Joe M. Grisso, also very prominent in Seminole, is under arrest as charged with the murder. So far as is known there were no witnesses of the killing except Mr. Briscoe's young son. Grisso has made no statement. He was arrested at the home of his cousin, Dr. W. E. Grisso, by Deputy Sheriff Lon Polk, who brought him to the Shawnee jail to avoid any possible violence on the part of Briscoe's friends.

It is said Ada people arose later Sunday morning than they have since last day at this time.

The McAlester News-Capital now has Associated Press leased wire service and is a real metropolitan paper. Hon. J. Roy Williams and his co-workers are putting out a publication that is a credit to McAlester and one of which the city should be proud. We trust the new venture will prove beneficial to the publishers as well as to the public.

The Shawnee News-Herald now has the full leased wire reports of the Associated Press, the greatest news gathering organization in the world. Otis Weaver, with the help of his strong organization, is determined to give Shawnee the best publication possible for a city the size of Shawnee to have. The News extends congratulations and best wishes.

The Oklahoma Legislature has adjourned. Much good legislation has been passed, some needed reforms made, some needed reforms left unmade. Like most Legislatures there were a few who insisted upon introducing bills to frighten away from the state prospective investors and make hard the building of a great commonwealth. We are glad to say most of such bills were killed, and on the whole the laws passed were advisable and just. The session will go down as one of the best. Whether the road measure will be endorsed by the people remains yet to be determined. The impetus given to state institutions, the start to cure tuberculosis, and the good roads measure will probably be remembered as the main pieces of legislation.

STEAM AHEAD.

What of the future? This question is on the lips of millions today and will be there tonight, tomorrow, next week and next year. Political and social wars are gnawing at the heart of civilization, threatening to tear down the established usages in more countries than Russia and Hungary. Bolshevism, which is a little different from anarchy, has not been put down and may not be put down for some time to come. William Allen White tells us that Bolshevism cannot live in the same world with democracy. Democracy, as we usually look upon it, means a leveling up process. Bolshevism means a leveling down process. Either Bolshevism must die in Russia or it will spread throughout the world.

Will it come to America? It is already here in a mild form, or rather the disease has affected a comparatively few people. Thus far wherever Bolshevism has shown its head, it has quickly and effectively been squelched. We believe it will continue to be squelched. American institutions are founded upon an equal opportunity for all. It is not impossible for the lowest born to reach the highest pinnacle of fame in this country, men often becoming millionaires in a few weeks and becoming paupers in just as short a time. Bolshevism arose in Russia from the carcass of a government which was unjust, mercenary, and of a class.

But suppose strong attempts are made to change our system of government, take from those who have accumulated something and distribute it to those who have not accumulated anything. Suppose attempts are made to do away with the ownership of land, the ownership of factories and nationalize all industries. We do not believe it will succeed. America was built on a different plan and there is no class of people under bondage. The worker now discusses his wages with his employer and a bargain is struck. The employer no longer says work or quit. We get results in America, but we get them in an American way.

There may be shoals ahead for the ship. It may be that a mariner of superhuman judgment and experience will be needed to keep us from the whirlpool on one side and the turbulent storm on the other. But we believe America faces a great future and not a bloody revolution. We know that the old order changes, giving place to the new, but we have faith in the American people so strong that we think these changes will be for the better. Like Browning, we believe that the best is yet to be, the last for which the first was made.

MAKE PEACE AND LET THE NATIONS GET TO WORK.

From New York Times.

If any fervor of appeal, any sharpness of admonition, any severity of censure, can move the Peace Conference to diligence and speed, civilizing mankind will be justified in using one or all together upon its dilatory agents at Paris. Stop your bickering and make peace, should be the command. It is encouraging to hear that Mr. Wilson makes an urgent plea for haste. The Congress of Vienna danced, bled and did not advance. The Paris Congress bled and gets nowhere. We have been fed upon promises. They have told us that the Treaty would be ready in three days, next week. Promises have not been kept. The demand for full performance must now be made so loud and imperative that it will be heeded. No one nation is responsible, but all those represented in the Conference. It is not alone the League of Nations that has caused the delay—the Constitution was drawn up and given to the world Feb. 15, nearly six weeks ago. The basic principles were all there, the Treaty could have been shaped to accord with them. Disputes over frontiers, the clash of extreme demands for territorial gains, conditions affecting Germany vexed with equal insistence yet irreconcilable.

differences over the disposal of the German Navy, questions of racial preponderance and economic interest in disputed zones—these and many other subjects of controversy have consumed the passing weeks.

The responsibility rests upon the Conference as a whole. Its task, to be sure, is the greatest ever undertaken by a council of nations, but its record of non-performance is deplorable. There is no one figure sufficiently massive to do justice to the Conference, there are no two or three minds with power enough to guide and compel it to prompt decisions. There is nowhere the resolute spirit that would end the work and put the world at peace. While the Conference has dawdled, unnumbered evils have arisen. The agents of all sorts of propaganda have converged upon Paris, they have had time to lay their plans and do their work. Secret and selfish influences have been increasingly active, they have opened avenues of approach to the chief men of the Conference. The ghosts of secret treaties have glided in and out of the council chamber. Busybodies without number are buzzing about in Paris, they pester the conferees with the half-baked products of their irresponsible imaginations. Rumor with many more than a thousand tongues has filled the atmosphere and spread throughout the world perverted or utterly false reports of the doings of the Conference.

All the time the black clouds of an intrigue as detestable as that of Potsdam and more completely destructive of society and of the works of civilization have been gathering in the east, and now the menace of their lightning has become visible even at Paris. It was inevitable, it was foreseen, yet the Conference has confessed its utter incompetence to erect any shelter against the storm. The appalling blunder of the Prinkipo proposal has its natural sequel in the outbreak of Bolshevism in Hungary. Whether it be a genuine projection westward of the infernal cult of Lenin and Trotsky, or a demonstration gotten up by prearrangement with Germany for influence upon the Conference, it is a challenge to the conferees must heed, an imperative summons to duty to which they can turn no indifferent ear.

The capacity to foresee and the duty to guard against social disorganization in the war-ravaged lands of Europe demanded no great experience in large international affairs, they called only for some knowledge of the nature of man. Defeat, idleness, and hunger have opened the minds of millions to suggestions of evil. In all lands there are serpents of misleading ready to hiss the message of mischief into every listening ear, and in some of the lands of Eastern Europe, near to the German breeding place of the satanic species, they have multiplied and swarmed and practiced their craft. They put Germany in danger, they threatened Austria, they have abused the hospitality of Switzerland, they have been ceaselessly active in Holland and in Sweden, their labors though frequently evident in Italy and France, have there been futile, but by the invitation of the Karolyi government they seem to have obtained a foothold in Hungary. In the months that have elapsed since the defeat of Germany and the armistice they have had time enough, and more than enough, to prepare and carry out their plans, to profit by the neuroses of war.

What active measures are to be taken against them must be determined by the representatives of the nations at Paris. That need arises from earlier indecision and the unconscionable delay in making peace. If there must be some repressive undertaking, the nations are equipped for it, and there can be no doubt whatever of its success. The power of these enemies of society, either for defense or for resistance, has been grossly exaggerated in current reports. But the surest defense against the new enemies of the nations, the sovereign remedy for unrest, whatever form it may take, is peace. In place of despair, idleness and hunger, the Conference must give the nations of Europe hope, work and food. It is only by work that the destruction of war can be repaired, only by the work and production that the enormous debts can be paid. Only when the hands of men shall again be engaged in gainful toil will their minds be proof against socialism and its kindred delusions. Again, the world's command to the Conference must be, make ready the Treaty of Peace, end the war, and give the world a chance to get to work.

Mr. Nelson H. Pease of the National Soldiers' home, Tennessee, says:

"I am 74 years of age and was in a weak, debilitated condition, poor appetite and did not sleep well. DADDY'S EVENING
FAIRY TALE
BY MARY GRAHAM BOWNER

JACK FROST'S BROTHERS.

"Come, brothers, hurry, we've no time to waste, come, brothers, hurry, we've no time to waste!"

And along scampered some little creatures who looked very much like gnomes or brownies except that they wore caps of icy silver and their suits were of white—like a fall of very light snow.

"We're coming, Jack," they shouted. For Jack Frost and his brothers were going to have an evening of fun.

"It seems like old times to be out on a trip like this," said Chilly, who is one of Jack's best workers.

"I feel just like work," said Master Very Cool, and Master Heavy Frost laughed and said: "Oh, won't the flowers be mad!"

"I saw some people covering plants up with newspapers and shawls," said Jack Frost, "but only a few did that. I fooled them, I did!" And he grinned while the people in their beds that night drew the coverings closer and said:

"Oh, it's cold, so cold," "Yes," continued Jack Frost, "they didn't think I was coming out tonight."

"How did you fool them?" asked Jack Frost's brothers.

"I arranged with Mr. Wind not to stop blowing until it was quite late. The people came out of their doors and said: 'Well, it's cold enough for Jack Frost tonight, but he won't come unless it's a good, still night.' And then, after a bit, Mr. Wind went sound asleep and I called to you, my brothers. Very few of the people thought I would come—a few did, it is true, but we won't bother about them."

"When shall we start?" asked Chilly.

"Right away," said Jack Frost. "Have you the magic paint brushes and the silver-snow paint? Ah, it's the best paint in the world, and with the cooling blows we give—our breath is so cold—we can work wonders."

"Yes," said Chilly, "our magic paint brushes are all ready. We'll go to the windows, Master Very Cool will go to the flowers, and Master Heavy Frost will go to the shrubs and low bushes."

"Good idea, Chilly, and I will help you," said Jack Frost. So off they started, and the Frost Brothers all carried large baskets made of birch bark, edged with silver, in which were paint brushes.

Chilly was a very fine artist. And such pictures of castles with turrets and towers and wonderful villages and courtyards as Chilly and his followers did make! The next morning the windows could not be seen out of at all. Master Heavy Frost did his work well with the shrubs, and Master Very Cool didn't mind at all when the flowers begged him not to hurt them.

"You're so cold," they shivered as they drew up miserably.

"That's what I'm famous for," said Chilly, "but you've had a long and fine summer in which to bloom, so go to sleep for the winter."

"I suppose we'll have to," said one of the flowers, as it drooped.

"I suppose we will have to," said the others said.

"Yes, I think you will have to," said Chilly.

As before Chilly did not finish his work. Mr. Sun had arisen and driven Jack Frost and his brothers away for the time being.

But now the winter was almost here, and this was the last regular frost party they could have, so they had a thoroughly good one.

"You can't blossom any more this year," said Chilly, "except those of you which won't be bitten and won't give up blooming until the snow comes and covers you."

"Some of you can stand even Jack Frost and his brothers—but you can't stand the old man Snow."

"You're glad in having us put down for the winter," the flowers said, as they drooped, and the few exceptions which didn't, continued the talk, saying: "Yes, you like to put us down for the winter."

"It's not that," said Chilly, "but I'm a great believer in having the right things in the right seasons. I like to let the snow have a chance in the winter and the south wind and summer breezes in the summer, but best of all I like the autumn season when Jack Frost's brothers and Jack Frost himself have it all to themselves and have their fun, heigh-ho!"

The Wrong Direction.

A teacher was explaining to her class that if one wished to do anything well one had to begin at the bottom, when a voice from the back interrupted her:

"How about swimming, teacher?"

Roff High School
Makes Good Record

Superintendent E. O. Davis, Coach; Doc Toliver, Center; Edgar Dixon, Forward; George Washington, Forward; (captain); Floyd Dorsey, Guard; Raymond Hamer, Forward; Floyd Waddill, Guard; Aut Watson, Guard; Vinnie Jeffress, Guard; Walter Berry, Forward.

This team played 24 games and won 16. Regardless of the fact that they played all the strong teams in this part of the state, they totaled 724 points to their opponents 510. The Roff school this year has not only made an excellent showing in athletic contests, but is doing good work in every department.

"Folks Would Pester Me"

Somebody asked an old Missouri store-keeper why he didn't put a small advertisement in the local newspaper to advertise a "home blend" of coffee that was particularly good.

"I don't wanta," he replied lazily. "If I did, folks would pester me all the time to show 'em my goods."

Thus did an old Missouri store-keeper pay unconscious tribute to the business-getting value of advertising. He missed a lot of business, of course, but there's another side of it.

Lots of people who really wanted this particular brand of coffee were unable to get it because no one ever told them where it was to be had.

You know yourself that it would take you twice as long to shop if there were no advertisements to guide you in your buying. You wouldn't know where to start. You'd miss a lot of good values just because no one ever told you about them.

The man who advertises is glad to have you "pester him" to show you his goods. Don't miss the advertisements. They will save you money.

Stop Coughing!

The simplest, quickest and best way to stop coughing is to take Foley's Honey and Tar.

In it, you get the curative influence of the pine tar and other healing ingredients, together with the mollifying and laxative effect of honey.

Foley's Honey and Tar helps coughs and colds, bronchial and grippe coughs, tickling throat and hoarseness. It is good for croup and whooping cough. It does not contain morphine, chloroform, or any other drug you would not want to give children, delicate persons or grown-ups. Do not accept a substitute.

"We have used Foley's Honey and Tar in our home for several years, and find it almost invaluable for the cure of coughs and colds, and especially for croup with children. They won't take any other kind. We are never without it in the house and can not too highly recommend it for coughs, colds or croup, for either grown up people or for children." T. J. COMMENTS BY NEWS READERS

[Under this heading will be printed from time to time letters from readers of the News. The Management, in printing these letters, does not thereby indicate its approval or disapproval of the sentiments expressed.—Ed.]

Once upon a time a man left his home to search for valuable jewels. He heard they were to be found in the far east, in the remote west, in the cold north, and under the burning sun of the extreme south. All of his life he searched. Finally, old, worn, bent and feeble, he returned to his little home which he had left in the beauty, boyance of young manhood. And lo, as his foot touched a pebble in the path leading to his own front door, he stooped to discover diamonds of unmeasured values. The greatest of wealth had always been at his reach.

All who could be were "49ers" traveling in mad, wild, unguided greed to the reputed gold fields of California. Numbers from Texas perished in the cold in search of Alaskan gold some years ago, but none of them in the least suspected that they were in the wealthiest country, and the wealthiest spot of the earth that has been yet developed.

Much like the other days past, in search of wealth, they have left their homes and have gone through the broadening fields of Texas, and have left the brightest jewel at their own doorway. There could be no doubt of the great quantity of oil in and near Ada, as the geological reports are just such as has been in every great oil field of America, and the physical facts is sufficient to prove that oil is in an abundance in this territory, as we only need to resort to reason to convince the intelligent that oil is plentiful in this locality.

Now we are taught, and which stands to reason, that gas is invariably found, in or near oil, and that gas is always above the oil, for instance, in the Moran field west of Ranger something like twenty miles is a great gas field which also lies southwest of Breckenridge. This gas in the Moran field was an unmistakable indication that there was an oil field not far away. The gas had reached the highest point in the sand being above the oil in the Ranger or Breckenridge fields. The same thing is true of this field. This gas in and around Ada is only prima facie evidence that there is plenty of oil in this locality which is soon to be developed.

In Clay county, Texas, is located a small quantity of oil and one of the greatest gas fields of the state which, was producing this great volume of gas long before there was any oil discovered in the great Burck-Burnett but the discovery of this gas at Petrolia was only proof that there was an abundance of oil near and those who acted on the theory that gas was a production of, or escaping from oil and through their continued effort they have developed the greatest oil field in the world.

Now in this county, and more especially in and around Ada, there has been discovered an abundance of gas and in many instances some splendid prospects for oil. (That is to say) there is a fair quantity of oil of a splendid gravity. That proves beyond mistake that there is an oil pool not very far distant from this splendid little city, which field is soon to be developed. Now with the best supply of water of almost any city in the country, and in this it is second to none, and with the best railroad and transportation facilities of almost any city in the state, and with the many manufacturing plants that is now located in Ada and its great resources speaking generally, it now promises to be (right soon) one of the greatest cities of the southwest.

There could be no doubt, judging from the geological reports, that just East, Southeast and South of this city there the oil pool lies, for the dip seems to be in that direction, as the continued drilling has proven this beyond any doubt, and I am sure that without the slightest degree of mistake we are soon to have several gushers in this field. "The most valuable jewels are near your own door." It only needs to be developed, which development is now under great headway. Don't go away in search of something that you have already, and at home for so doing you are playing a losing game. No city nor oil field ever had better prospects for the near future than does the City of Ada, and the adjoining field.

As has been the case in every oil field of any importance, the man who was so skeptical that he could not depend on the simplest of reasonings has made the mistake of their lives, and by so, have sacrificed many fortunes, but the men that have been ready to grasp the opportunities and have been first to act have built up many fortune. HARRISON AND EBEY PLEASED

EAST CENTRAL NORMAL FARED
WELL IN APPROPRIATIONS.
SALARY INCREASE.

Senator Luther Harrison and Representative W. H. Ebey came in last night, ending their work in session of the Legislature just past. Both feel well pleased with the accomplishments of the law making bodies and believe it was the most efficient Legislature Oklahoma has ever had. Ada and Pontotoc county fared well, so far as appropriations were concerned as well as otherwise. The normal got a new building, got the money to buy the lots north of the normal building, got the money to buy the material which belonged to the S. A. T. C. and also a 20 per cent increase for the teachers. The appropriation for the purchase of the S. A. T. C. material has not been signed by Governor Robertson yet, and there is still a possibility that the money will not be available. Neither has Governor Robertson signed the salary increase bill.

Both Mr. Harrison and Mr. Ebey were successful in getting through their bills, a more detailed account of which will be given in Tuesday's News.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Gregg returned from Hot Springs, Ark., Saturday where they have spent several weeks for the benefit of their health. Mr. Gregg was quite sick Saturday and Sunday but is reported somewhat better today.

Washington, D. C.—A curious fact has been brought to light by the Educational Bureau and the Bureau of Industrial Research here. It is that in the states where illiteracy is most prevalent paint is least used. The paint referred to is the common or barn variety, of course, for the backwoods countries have no need for the finer pigments or facial adornments. It is true, though, that in the sections of all states where white illiteracy is highest painted homes are rare and painted outbuildings and barns are practically unknown. Probably the illiterates do not use paint on their buildings because they do not understand its value as a preservative.

PAINT AS AN ASSET.

Bankers Say They Lend More Money on Property When Buildings Are Well Painted.

AN INDICATION OF THRIFT.

One Concern Advances 25 Per Cent. More if Repainting Is Done Every Five Years.

Does it pay to paint carefully farm buildings? Does it add to the selling value of a farm when buildings are properly kept up and regularly painted? A careful inquiry of a number of leading bankers in the Mississippi valley, including such states as Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Missouri, reveals the fact that in nearly every case the bankers did not hesitate to say that they would lend all the way from 5 to 50 per cent. more on land where farm buildings were well painted and kept in good condition. They maintain that well kept-up and well painted buildings and fences are an indication of thrift and that the thrifty farmer is a good client, and to him money can be safely loaned. An average of the returns from these bankers shows that the increased loan value because of painted buildings is around 22 per cent.

Some of these bankers make interesting comment. A Michigan banker says that, while not especially prepared to advise definitely in response to this inquiry, the officers would loan more money on farms where buildings were painted than where they were not so treated. This bank also finds that where houses, barns and fences are well taken care of the farm is a profitable proposition, and bankers in general consider the farmer a good client. Another Michigan bank says, "farm buildings out of repair and needing paint indicate that the owner is slow pay." Such farms are rated at about one-third of the assessed value for loans. Where the farm buildings are in good shape the rating is one-half. The president of a middle western bank says that when real estate loans are considered, painted buildings are always taken into consideration in making an estimate. The general appearance of the property surrounding the house and barn and also the fields and fences would be carefully observed. He further says that he has no hesitancy in saying that he would absolutely refuse a loan on farms where the buildings were not kept up and well painted. In his judgment, unpainted farm buildings would reduce the loan value at least 25 per cent.

A Minnesota banker says that he is much more willing to loan money where the buildings are well painted. In his particular case he believes that he would loan 20 per cent. more than if the buildings were not properly taken care of. A farmer who will keep his buildings painted takes a much deeper interest in his work than one who does not. Another Minnesota bank says that well painted buildings have resulted in securing from his bank sometimes as high as 25 per cent. more money than where the buildings are not painted. An Ohio banker says that it will loan 25 per cent. more money on a well kept farm where buildings are painted at least once every five years. A southern Illinois bank says that it has no fixed rule about this, but it does make a decided difference when owners of farm lands apply for loans. If the buildings are well painted and thus well preserved the loan rate would not only be cheaper, but the amount of money borrowed would be larger. A northern Illinois bank does not hesitate to say that it would loan fully 50 per cent. more on a farm where buildings were well painted and in good order than where they were not. The vice president, who answers the inquiry, goes on to say: "There probably are many farmers good financially and morally who permit their buildings to remain unpainted, but as a rule the most substantial people who live in the country keep their buildings well painted."

An Iowa bank, through its vice president, states that it would make a difference of at least 25 per cent. in favor of the farm with painted buildings. Another Iowa concern says that it would make a difference of at least 20 per cent. All this being true, it is perfectly evident that it is a good business proposition to keep the farm buildings well painted. They not only look better and are more pleasing to the owner, but the farm would sell to better advantage, the loan value of the property would be greatly increased and the buildings themselves would last much longer and need less repair.—The American Agriculturist.

GOV. ROBERTSON USES VETO-POWER

JUDGES NOT TO GET RAISE; DURANT NORMAL LOSES SMALL AMOUNT.

That Governor Robertson is of the opinion that the salary increases authorized by the legislature cannot accrue to the benefit of these officials who were elected or appointed prior to the increases is indicated in a veto message transmitted to the house early yesterday morning setting forth his reasons for disapproving the bill to increase the salaries of district judges in an indirect way by making them referees.

The plan to add $1,000 a year to the pay of district judges by making them referees and adding additional duties was "merely subterfuge" to increase their salary, the governor said.

"Everyone knows there would be no appreciable additional work for them to do by reason of being made referees. The only reason purpose of this bill is to increase the salaries from $3,000 to $4,000 a year. If the legislature wanted to increase these salaries it should have been done in a straightforward manner," he said.

The governor also vetoed the bill appropriating $552 to the credit of the Southeastern Normal school at Durant. "This is not the proper way to make an appropriation of this character. It should have been included in the general appropriation bill for that school, so as to have been included in the general appropriation bill for that school, so as to have permitted full and free discussion of the item," he said.
